PRICKLY PEAR

The prickly pear cactus can live for years without hydration and returns to life with just a drop of water. This desert fruit, sourced from Israel's Negev Desert, is a true superfood, rich in vitamins and natural proteins. Seeds from the prickly pear produce oils with rejuvenating and anti-inflammatory properties for the skin, while its proteins can deeply condition and bring back the hair's natural shine. Just as the plant reawakens with water, its oil will awaken your skin's ability to absorb moisture, giving even the most dehydrated skin a refreshed, rejuvenating, brighter feel.
